

Professional Services Automation

Streamline service delivery, resource management, tracking and billing

Upland's Tenrox is designed to meet the challenges of managing globally dispersed services organizations and project workforces.

It is a cloud-based professional services automation software application that automates project initiation, resource management, time and expense, and reporting and analytics to improve the management of billable projects from pipeline to close. Tenrox offers configurable cost and billing rules, including chargeback or invoicing, with certified integrations to all major CRM and accounting systems.

Benefits

Tenrox's integrated project management, workforce management and financial capabilities allow you to manage and view both process and financial impact in real-time. Tenrox empowers your workforce by giving them the tools and solutions they need to access and share information faster:

- Simple Phased Implementation – Start with one module, such as simple timesheets, and then adopt others over time at your own pace
- Graphical Workflow Engine – Just drag and drop to design and change workflows for any of your business processes
- Workflow Automation – Automate approvals, routing, assignments, escalations and notifications
- Built-in Integrations – Exchange data with leading accounting, payroll, project management, HR and CRM applications, right out-of-the-box
- Effortless Compliance – Generate the reports, breakdowns and audit trails you need for compliance with government regulations or contractual requirements
- Tenrox Mobile – A simple, reliable time and expense reporting tool for the workforce on the move. Supported on any Apple, Android, Windows and Blackberry phones.

“Tenrox puts more information in project leaders' hands, so they better understand where their money is being spent and how that impacts their projects.”
